

Meg Fisher, MD, FAAP

Dr. Fisher received her undergraduate education at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, PA, and her medical degree from the University of California at Los Angeles School of Medicine. She completed her Pediatric Residency and Fellowship Training in Pediatric Infectious Diseases from St. Christopher's Hospital for Children, Philadelphia. Her current appointment is Medical Director, The Children's Hospital at Monmouth Medical Center and Professor of Pediatrics, Drexel University College of Medicine.

Dr. Fisher's academic achievements include the following: frequent CME speaker locally, regionally, nationally, and internationally; Journal reviewer, Editor, Concise Reviews of Pediatric Infectious Diseases, Hot Topics, member of the AAP Committee on Infectious Diseases (Red Book) from 1996 to 2002 and 2006 to present; member of the AAP Committee on Continuing Medical Education from 2003 to present; elected to Executive Committee of the AAP Section on Infectious Diseases 2003, elected as the Chair in 2006; elected Secretary/Editor of the AAP New Jersey Chapter 2004, Treasurer in 2006; over 30 articles published in peer-reviewed journals, numerous invited articles, book chapters, audiotapes and one book (Immunizations & Infectious Diseases: An Informed Parent Guide).

Her special interests include medical education, pediatric infectious diseases, hospital epidemiology, and infection control.